

Upcoming NHSN Talks in 2023

An exciting programme of talks is returning this winter.

Join us on Monday evenings in the Herschel Building, Newcastle University. Doors open and refreshments at 6pm.

Date
	 18.29 19.00
23 October	Exploring Conservation Attitudes , with Ellesse Janda, University of Edinburgh	Welcoming Beavers Back to Northumberland , with Heather Devey, Wild Intrigue
30 October	My Time as an NHSN Student Naturalist , Alex Moore, Newcastle University	The World of Ants , with Gary Skinner, entomologist and author
6 November	Galapagos Giant Tortoises , with Rachel Gray, Newcastle University	The UK Cellar Slug Survey , with Imogen Cavadino, RHS
13 November	Seed Mixes for Permanent Grasslands , with Sarah Platt, Newcastle University	Harvest Mice on the Northumbrian Coast , with Sophie Webster, Northumberland Wildlife Trust
20 November	Using Metrics to Assess the Conservation Potential of Rewilding Ecosystems , with Molly Tuckey, Newcastle University	Death on the Mire: Carnivorous Plants in the UK , with Hazel and Chris Metherell, local botanists
27 November	Managing Moors , with Rebecca Clark, Durham Wildlife Trust	Decarbonising Heat Using Britain's Mining Assets , with Charlotte Adams, The Coal Authority
4 December	Exploring Nature's Cure , with Clare Freeman, NHSN	Using Molecular Methods to Investigate Invertebrate Foraging Ecology , with Jordon Cuff, Newcastle University
11 December	Water Voles in Northumberland , with Emily Marshall, Northumberland Wildlife Trust	Introducing the Wallington Estate , with Elaine More, National Trust

NHSN and 1829 Talks are open to all.

Your friends, family and colleagues are welcome too.

Watch and Share. All NHSN and 1829 Talks are available to watch on YouTube