

Natural History Talks 2024

Monday evenings in the Herschel Building, Newcastle University.

Doors open and refreshments at 6pm.

18.29

19.00

15 January	Tracking Pollution in the Ouse Burn , with Rixia Zan, Newcastle University	From Soil to Song or Common-Sense Farming , with Charlie Bennet, Middleton North
22 January	My Experience Working in a Seal Rescue Centre , with Alex Duggan, Newcastle University	Moths in a Changing Environment , with Emily Hickinbotham, Newcastle University
29 January	Seed Mixes for Permanent Grasslands , with Sarah Platt, Newcastle University	Mass Marine Die-offs: Searching for the Cause of These Events in the North East , with Gary Caldwell, Newcastle University
5 February	Assessing Planting Strategies In Saltwell Park , with Megan Ferrell, Northumbria University	Peatland Restoration in the North Pennines , with Lisa Gill & Alistair Lockett, North Pennines National Landscape
12 February	Ouse Burn Way Vision , with Anne Reece, Reece Foundation	Urban Kittiwakes , with Helen Wilson, Durham University
19 February	Seals on the Farne Islands , with Alex Moore, Newcastle University	Riverflies: The Canary of our Rivers , Trine Bregstein, Riverfly Partnership
26 February	Noisy Neighbours: Offshore Wind Farms and Cetaceans in the North East , Sarah Dickinson, Newcastle University	The 'Mag'nificent World of Magnesian Limestone Grasslands , with Mark Dinning, Durham Wildlife Trust
4 March	Wildlife in the City: Gosforth's Wild Web and Wild Ouseburn , with NHSN and Wild Intrigue	The Rise of Bottlenose Dolphins in the North East , with Martin Kitching, North East Cetacean Project
11 March	Stream Monitoring in Gosforth Nature Reserve , with Gemma Ball, Newcastle University	Highlights of the North East Coast With Chris Redfern, Paul Morrison, Sophie Webster & Karl Egeland-Eriksen

1829 and NHSN Talks are open to all.

Bring along your friends, family, and colleagues too.