

Natural History Talks 2024

Monday evenings in the Herschel Building, Newcastle University.

Doors open and refreshments at 6pm.

21 October	My Time on the NHSN Field Skills Programme , with Prerana Balu, Newcastle University	Wildlife in Gosforth's Wild Web , with Clare Freeman, Ellie Davison, James Common & Ben Hawthorne, NHSN
28 October	Adders in the North Pennines , with Henry Barrat, North Pennines National Landscape	Superheroes of the North Sea – the Reintroduction of Native Oysters to the North East , with Joe Harper, The Wild Oysters Project
4 November	Birds in fragmented forest landscapes of the Philippines , with Jelaine Gan, Newcastle University	Space for Shorebirds on the Northumberland Coast , with Richard Willis, Space for Shorebirds
11 November	Companion Planting to Prevent Flea Beetle Damage , with Paul Allison, Newcastle University	The Tyne, Its Tributaries, Fauna, and Flora , with Richard Kirk, Tyne Rivers Trust
18 November	Searching for the Greater White-toothed Shrew in the North East , with Charlotte Sharp, Durham University	Terns of Beadnell Bay , with James Porteus, National Trust-Northumberland Coast
25 November	Overlooked Fish of the North East , with Basil Dean, Environment Agency	Zooplankton of the Northumberland Coast: Importance and Monitoring , with Hannah Lloyd-Hartley, Dove Marine Laboratory
2 December	Microbes in Peatland Restoration , with Isis Nicholson, Northumbria University	Moths of Northumberland , with David Howdon, National Moth Recording Scheme
9 December	Investigating Corolla Length in the Daisy Family , with Sarah France, Northumbria University	Local Nature Recovery Strategies , with David Feige, Northumberland County Ecologist

1829 and NHSN Talks are open to all.

Bring along your friends, family, and colleagues too.